

CLOSING DAYS FOR CAMPAIGN

La Follette Endorses Two Congressional Candidates And John Strange.

STEPHENSON LEADS IN THE RACE

Marinette Man Appears To Be Favorite In The Senatorial Contest-Talk Of The Managers And General Gossip.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 23.—With primary day on Tuesday next and but two days to talk or do any work and one of them Sunday, it may be said that the task of the campaign manager is over as far as his office work is concerned and that his next step is to see that the voters get out on primary day and vote.

This primary law has really given the state two elections and here in Milwaukee the interest in the contests is such that the workers will really work harder Tuesday than they will on the November election day. Every candidate for senator, every candidate for congressman and all the county officers who have opposition are planning for workers at the polls.

This is true in many sections of the state where whole counties are being organized by the senatorial candidates. In the congressional districts, the candidates are also active. It is safe to say that fully a hundred thousand dollars, if not more, will be spent by the candidates for the different nominations in the state at large.

The senatorial fight has apparently narrowed down to a contest for votes between Cook and Stephenson. Stephenson leads without any question as his strength will be in the cities and villages and Cook claims that his is with the farmers. Why he makes this claim is strange to see as Stephenson has as much claim on the farmers as he, but it is made.

Hutton and McGovern have so successfully divided the ultra radical vote that it is now out of the question for either of them to win the coveted nomination. Hutton, however, shows wonderful strength in some localities and his vote is problematic. McGovern is also developing support in unexpected quarters.

The campaign managers of all four are sanguine of the results and predict a remarkably large vote. Every effort is being made to bring out the farmer vote which is usually reluctant to give up a day just at this season for political purposes.

It was confidently expected that Senator La Follette would speak out for Hutton or McGovern, but while he has been back in the state for some days, he has visited Milwaukee and other points as far as he can be learned he has himself said nothing which could be taken as favoring either of the aspirants.

It is a bitter disappointment to both candidates as each had reason to hope for preferment and at this time it would have meant much to them. Their representative managers have claimed all along they were the minor party choice of the senior senator and as such should have the support of all the followers of his doctrines but with both of them crying the same story it has split the vote.

La Follette has spoken however on three candidates. He has mixed into the congressional fight in the first and fourth districts and endorsed John Strange for U. S. Governor. He came to Milwaukee to talk for Cochrane and talked. He sends out telegrams endorsing Cooper throughout the first congressional district and also favoring John Strange.

This John Strange telegram is one which is to bring all the oring brothers into the fold again by identifying the senator's choice for this office. He must rally his men about some one candidate so that their being split on the senatorial question will have no serious effect upon his future plans. Strange is the man. The eleven-hour candidate who has been boosted by Elsen (the state through must win to keep the old organization intact).

Meanwhile Troitman's managers are hard at work to offset the effect of this closing effort and with the work already done have good hopes of results. Troitman took the place when no one asked for it and has made a good run. His campaign has been clean and, while perhaps lost sight of in the senatorial fight is worth watching.

Five congressional contests are being watched with more than interest. La Follette's entrance into the first district fight is a sign of decided weakness on the part of Cooper, whom Thomas S. Nolan of Janesville is contesting the office with. Nolan has made wonderful progress throughout the district and it is reported that Cooper has become desperate and is using his postmaster to distribute his literature contrary to postal laws.

Nolan is not making a speaking campaign while Cooper is, but it is said he is not having the audience he would like and that has failed to answer the charges made against him of voting with the democrats on many important measures. His hold on Green, La Follette, Brock and Walworth is said to be slipping and Nolan's success is considered a probability.

In the second district and in the ninth the fight is being waged with prospects of a close vote in the second and in the ninth of the success of Allen who was defeated two years ago by Kuesterman. In the fourth in Milwaukee, La Follette has again gone to the aid of one of his followers and urged the nomination of Cochrane to succeed Stafford. The other fight is in Jenkins district.

The Leinro-Jenkins congressional fight has assumed a new aspect during the past few days. Up to the present time Jenkins has been on the defensive as far as having anything to answer is concerned. Leinro has been demanding all over the district that Jenkins explain his position on various issues and that he explain certain things in the congressional record, where his vote is recorded.

Jenkins has been coming back by accusing Leinro of misrepresenting but for the most part he has appeared to be on the defensive, especially since he refused the invitation to participate in joint debate. This week, however, campaign stories are being quickly circulated and the Leinro people are very busy answering them.

Practically all are declared to be political roadblocks and about all that Leinro himself sees fit to do is to denounce them as falsehoods. There is no doubt that rumors of a personal nature that are absolutely false have been going round but they at least serve to keep the speakers busy and lead up to the campaign.

Jenkins has lately made considerable capital out of an alleged quotation from a letter from Roosevelt commending him and expressing a desire for his re-election. That is the way it is given out to the Jenkins audience. Leinro has been calling for a show-down. He charges that there is no such letter in existence. Up to date, the Jenkins people have kept it up their sleeve if there is one. The district is pretty warm now but likely to be hotter before Tuesday.

citizens. As a soldier, lawyer and statesman and prominent citizen his vigorous personality stood forth and made him a leader of men. His brilliant record as a member of President Cleveland's cabinet and as a United States senator won for him a place in the front ranks of the constructive statesmen of his time. His work as a professor in the law school, university regent and member of the commission which built the historical library made him a character that will forever reflect a brilliant light upon the educational history of Wisconsin.

"As a member of the state capital commission he brought to his labors the very spirit of his power and energy-mastered the details of the work in all its branches, and during the last year of his life devoted his entire time to that work.

"He often expressed a desire to be an instrument in erecting a capital building which will reflect credit on his labors and that of the commission and be a monument of beauty and usefulness to the state.

"As a mark of respect to his memory the flag on the capitol will be hoisted at half-mast until after the funeral."

New York, Aug. 23.—The American winners and their team mates in the recent Olympic games in London today were given the greatest reception ever accorded a body of Americans returning from an athletic contest. The demonstration was truly a record-breaker, as befitting the occasion. State and city officials, members of the judiciary, high officers of the army and navy and thousands of men prominent in the business and official life of the metropolis took part in the big welcome and joined in the cheering that greeted the winners of the Marathon, John Flanagan, the mighty weight lifter, Carpenter, who was disqualified in the 400-meter run; Robbins, who finished second in that event; Martin J. Sheridan, Irish fencer, Dan Kelly of Oregon and the others who represented the land of the Stars and Stripes in the international contests.

The parade was the big feature of the day. Starting at Forty-sixth street and Broadway, the parade proceeded down Broadway to Thirty-fifth street to Fifth avenue, to Broadway, to City Hall. In addition to the victorious athletes the procession included hundreds of representatives of the athletic organizations of the metropolis, troops of the regular army and the national guard, a score of bands, numerous floats and several thousand schoolboy athletes. Conspicuous among the features was the Marathon trophy, which was placed on a float and given a prominent position in line. Reviewing stands containing many hundreds were erected in Madison Square and City Hall park.

GRAND ARMY TO GATHER IN OHIO CITY NEXT WEEK

Forty-Second Annual Encampment Of G. A. R. Opens First Of Next Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Toledo, O., Aug. 23.—Although the opening of the forty-second annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is still three days distant, the vanguard of veterans and other visitors put in an appearance today, and the large number of early arrivals indicates that the attendance will exceed the most sanguine expectations of the local committee of arrangements.

The arrangements for the week were completed today. The city is extensively and handsomely decorated in honor of the occasion, and the courthouse, public library and other public buildings, the hotels, clubs and leading business houses bear electric illuminations of unusual brilliancy. Flags and bunting and patriotic decorations are to be seen on all sides and the great parade next Wednesday will move through streets spanned by magnificent arches and lined with garlands of red, white and blue hung from Venetian masts.

In connection with the meetings of the Grand Army, there will be held the annual gatherings of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Daughters of Veterans, the Ladies' Aid Society, the National Army Nurses' association, the national association of Naval Veterans, and the national association of ex-prisoners of war.

The meetings and reunions of these various organizations will continue until Saturday and at some of them much important business is to be transacted. The most important matter to be brought before the Woman's Relief Corps will be in regard to the Andersonville prison property. For many years the W. R. C. has taken care of it, but the organization feels now that the large sum of money required could be expended more wisely for the care of the old soldiers, and they will ask the government to take over the property. For national president of the Woman's Relief Corps the candidates this year include Mrs. Mary Gilman of Boston, Mrs. Davis of California, Mrs. Belle Harris of Kansas and Mrs. Jennie Berry of Iowa.

For president of the Ladies of the G. A. R. the strongest candidate now seems to be Mrs. Genevieve Longfield of Illinois, who for many years has been one of the most prominent members of the order. With the daughters of Veterans it has been the custom to advance the national senior vice-president to the presidency, but Mrs. Nettie Fox of Ohio, who held that office died recently, and it is expected the junior vice-president, Miss Clara Hoover of Chicago, will be made the new national president.

The big event of encampment week will be the parade of Grand Army men on Wednesday. It is expected that some twenty thousand veterans will in line. Out of consideration for the age of the marchers the route of the parade will be a little over a mile long. Occupying seats on the reviewing stand will be the governors of four or five states and number of other notables.

On Tuesday evening the mammoth camp fire of the Grand Army will be held in the Valentine Theatre. Governor Harris of Ohio, Mayor Whitlock of Toledo, Department Commander Shearer of the Ohio G. A. R. and J. Kent Hamilton, chairman of the executive committee will extend greetings and the invocation will be by Bishop Falkows, chaplain-in-chief. Judge Charles G. Burton of Missouri, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., will respond, after which Mrs. Kate E. Jones of Ill., N. Y., national president of the W. R. C., will extend greetings for the order. One of the impressive features of the camp fire will be the flag presentation of the Army Nurses. The demonstration when these heroic women are presented to the old veterans it is expected will be unparalleled.

Other features of the encampment will be the unveiling of the Meigs monument at Perryburg, and excursions to Sandusky, Cedar Point, Put-in-Bay and other points of interest along Lake Erie. The dedication of the Meigs monument, marking the place where General William Henry Harrison defeated Tippecanoe, his British general, and Tecumseh, his Indian ally, in 1813, will be attended by the governors of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky and Virginia.

Much interest centers in the choice of the new commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. For this office there are already several prominent candidates, among them Judge Henry M. Nevins of New Jersey, former Governor S. R. Van Sant of Minnesota, and former Attorney General W. A. Ketchum of Indiana.

By noon the hundreds of the early morning had become thousands. The superheated interest in the game was due not only to its importance heading on the pennant race, but also to the report that Pitchers Mathewson of New York and Brown of Chicago would oppose each other.

WHAT DRAINAGE CAN ACCOMPLISH

RIDS ROADS OF SURPLUS WATER THAT RUINS THEM.

WORD FROM WASHINGTON

Department of Agriculture Sends Out Thoughtful Letter on the Subject.

That the question of good roads is considered of importance by the department of agriculture at Washington is illustrated by the following thoughtful letter on the subject of drainage sent to the Gazette. Just at this time when efforts are being made to bring the roads of Rock county up to the standard it will be an interesting adjunct to the knowledge of those interested in the movement.

With an average of 27,000 tons of water falling in the form of rain on each mile of public road in the United States annually, it is scarcely to be marvelled at that the ten commandments of the road builder can be summed up succinctly in the word "drainage."

The saying has truth for a basis, as good drainage is the primary requisite for all roads. Even in sand roads this holds true, for there "good drainage" means such as will safely remove the storm water without erosion or gullying and still retain the surface moisture.

To secure good drainage one must take into consideration both the surface water and the underground water. The surface water must be removed quickly and completely and without subjecting the road to excessive wear or erosion. For this reason, the center of the road should be raised and the slope towards the side ditches should be from one-half to one inch to each foot distance, so that the water will run freely to the side ditches and not flow down the road or remain in puddles on the roadway.

The side ditches should be of ample size to carry the severest storms with a fall of not less than 1/4 inch to each 100 feet. Frequent and ample cross drains should be constructed and every opportunity taken to get the water away from the road as quickly as possible. Any road along which you see water standing in the side ditches or on which puddles of water have collected or which has been badly gulched and eroded by the rains has poor drainage and is in need of immediate attention. To feet each road nearly always require a little attention after each rain. The secret of good drainage is to maintain good drainage on our earth roads, and should be used after each rain. On a heavy clay or gumbo soil the drainage when properly used tends to puddle the road surface, keep it free from ruts, dense, smooth and hard, thus securing the best surface drainage possible.

But in many places the underground water is too near the surface and must be removed before a good road will be possible. This means that some form of sub-drainage must be resorted to, usually the drains of clay or concrete. Water from whatever source must be gotten rid of effectively, for water plus clay or gumbo invariably equals mud when mixed in spring and summer. Water becomes ice in winter and as water in freezing expands one-eighth its volume, the road heaves out of shape and when the ice melts the road disappears beneath the rising tide of mud and constant ruts, ruts, melting snows and underground springs.

In deep and bumpy places the sub-drainage in order to be fully effective should lower the water level to not less than three feet below the road surface. If they are used they should be carefully laid, true to grade. Most failures in the drainage can be attributed to carelessness in laying, or too flat grade. The less than 4 inches in diameter should rarely be used, nor should a grade of less than 1/4 inch to the 100 feet be used unless absolutely necessary. In a very dense soil, it is always advisable to cover the tile to at least a depth of 6 to 12 inches with a coarse sand or fine gravel. Care should always be taken to secure a free outlet for the drains and to protect the outlet with a concrete bulkhead or catch-bush, which can always be kept clean and the outlet free.

The kind of tile to be used depends on local conditions. Concrete tile if properly made are equally as good as clay tile. Which kind to use is entirely a local question of dollars and cents. If concrete tile can be made more cheaply than clay tile can be had, use concrete; if not, use clay tile. One great advantage of the concrete tile is that they can be easily made by the local users at or near the place where they are to be placed, so that the freight charges are dispensed with as well as the large breakage losses due to handling. When in the ground, both are durable. If concrete is used, great care should be taken to see that a good grade of Portland cement is selected, and that the drains are properly constructed. The impression, which prevails to some extent, that the disintegrates is erroneous.

A bulletin is now in course of preparation by the United States Office of Public Roads telling how to make concrete drains. This bulletin will treat the subject fully, explaining carefully every point that may arise in making drain pipes and culverts.

Two Girls Frightened Last Night by Man with Sheet Over His Head on St. Lawrence Avenue.
Last evening before ten o'clock, while walking on St. Lawrence avenue, two young girls employed at two third ward homes were accosted and chased by a man with a sheet over his head. The girls ran into the residence of Mrs. A. P. Loyejoy and the police were immediately called, but no trace could be found of the would-be ghost.

The man approached the girls and as he came up to them made some remark in a great tone of voice and then reached out to catch hold of them. They were exceedingly frightened and started to run and as the Loyejoy home was nearest they ran in there for shelter with the man close behind them until they had at last reached the house. Officers Wilham Mosca and Sam Brown soon arrived, but could find no trace of the unknown man who had disappeared through the park. A man who happened to be sitting in the park at the time told the police of seeing a young man run through the park about the same time, but though search was made for several hours it was useless.

Last fall several women were attacked in the same neighborhood by a man who resembles in appearance the man who has attacked several women in the neighborhood of Pearl street.

WHOLE FAMILY AT GOLDEN WEDDING

For First Time in 19 Years Entire Jackson Family Was Reunited.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Clinton, Aug. 28.—The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. Jacobson held on Wednesday was the first time the children had been together for more than fifteen years. Upon this occasion they were not only present but had with them their companions and some of their children, besides a great number of uncles, aunts and cousins. A large and highly enjoyable gathering.

Will Jacobson of Clinton, N. D., who came home to be at the golden wedding of his parents, took his relatives and friends very much by surprise by bringing a bride with him, they having been married the Sunday previous. He was the last of the eight to form such an alliance, but evidently has made a wise selection and his many friends here certainly wish for them much joy and great prosperity.

Mrs. Emma Green and son of Wald have been spending a few days here recently.

The new cement walk on the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets and the strip along lower Main street are certainly great improvements to the appearance of the place.

Miss Ethel Pangborn left on Wednesday for Minnesota where she is to teach the coming year.

Prof. Smith, who has been in charge of the school here for the past two years, shipped his goods to Evansville on Wednesday at which place he is to be located the coming year. He has given exceptionally good satisfaction here and his family will be glad to be in the community.

Watermelons have been plenty of late.

Joe Winegar's son to have a large auction, selling off all the tools, stock and crops from his large farm just north of town.

The Mystic Workers picnic to be held at Yoda's Park on Saturday afternoon and evening promises to be a well attended and very pleasant affair.

A. S. Johann and family are again settled in their old quarters over the store on the east side of Main street.

WOMEN WERE CHASED BY WOULD-BE GHOST

Two Girls Frightened Last Night by Man with Sheet Over His Head on St. Lawrence Avenue.

Last evening before ten o'clock, while walking on St. Lawrence avenue, two young girls employed at two third ward homes were accosted and chased by a man with a sheet over his head. The girls ran into the residence of Mrs. A. P. Loyejoy and the police were immediately called, but no trace could be found of the would-be ghost.

The man approached the girls and as he came up to them made some remark in a great tone of voice and then reached out to catch hold of them. They were exceedingly frightened and started to run and as the Loyejoy home was nearest they ran in there for shelter with the man close behind them until they had at last reached the house. Officers Wilham Mosca and Sam Brown soon arrived, but could find no trace of the unknown man who had disappeared through the park. A man who happened to be sitting in the park at the time told the police of seeing a young man run through the park about the same time, but though search was made for several hours it was useless.

Last fall several women were attacked in the same neighborhood by a man who resembles in appearance the man who has attacked several women in the neighborhood of Pearl street.

The saying has truth for a basis, as good drainage is the primary requisite for all roads. Even in sand roads this holds true, for there "good drainage" means such as will safely remove the storm water without erosion or gullying and still retain the surface moisture.

To secure good drainage one must take into consideration both the surface water and the underground water. The surface water must be removed quickly and completely and without subjecting the road to excessive wear or erosion. For this reason, the center of the road should be raised and the slope towards the side ditches should be from one-half to one inch to each foot distance, so that the water will run freely to the side ditches and not flow down the road or remain in puddles on the roadway.

The side ditches should be of ample size to carry the severest storms with a fall of not less than 1/4 inch to each 100 feet. Frequent and ample cross drains should be constructed and every opportunity taken to get the water away from the road as quickly as possible. Any road along which you see water standing in the side ditches or on which puddles of water have collected or which has been badly gulched and eroded by the rains has poor drainage and is in need of immediate attention. To feet each road nearly always require a little attention after each rain. The secret of good drainage is to maintain good drainage on our earth roads, and should be used after each rain. On a heavy clay or gumbo soil the drainage when properly used tends to puddle the road surface, keep it free from ruts, dense, smooth and hard, thus securing the best surface drainage possible.

But in many places the underground water is too near the surface and must be removed before a good road will be possible. This means that some form of sub-drainage must be resorted to, usually the drains of clay or concrete. Water from whatever source must be gotten rid of effectively, for water plus clay or gumbo invariably equals mud when mixed in spring and summer. Water becomes ice in winter and as water in freezing expands one-eighth its volume, the road heaves out of shape and when the ice melts the road disappears beneath the rising tide of mud and constant ruts, ruts, melting snows and underground springs.

In deep and bumpy places the sub-drainage in order to be fully effective should lower the water level to not less than three feet below the road surface. If they are used they should be carefully laid, true to grade. Most failures in the drainage can be attributed to carelessness in laying, or too flat grade. The less than 4 inches in diameter should rarely be used, nor should a grade of less than 1/4 inch to the 100 feet be used unless absolutely necessary. In a very dense soil, it is always advisable to cover the tile to at least a depth of 6 to 12 inches with a coarse sand or fine gravel. Care should always be taken to secure a free outlet for the drains and to protect the outlet with a concrete bulkhead or catch-bush, which can always be kept clean and the outlet free.

The kind of tile to be used depends on local conditions. Concrete tile if properly made are equally as good as clay tile. Which kind to use is entirely a local question of dollars and cents. If concrete tile can be made more cheaply than clay tile can be had, use concrete; if not, use clay tile. One great advantage of the concrete tile is that they can be easily made by the local users at or near the place where they are to be placed, so that the freight charges are dispensed with as well as the large breakage losses due to handling. When in the ground, both are durable. If concrete is used, great care should be taken to see that a good grade of Portland cement is selected, and that the drains are properly constructed. The impression, which prevails to some extent, that the disintegrates is erroneous.

A bulletin is now in course of preparation by the United States Office of Public Roads telling how to make concrete drains. This bulletin will treat the subject fully, explaining carefully every point that may arise in making drain pipes and culverts.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpelide on Account of its Effectiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpelide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleaning the scalp of dandruff and also for its effectiveness as a general hair-dressing. It makes the hair feel fresh and it plays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpelide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpelide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Send for a free trial sample. W. H. LEWIS, WHO, IT IS REPORTED, HAS BEEN SLATED FOR THE POSITION OF ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Washington, D. C.—Considerable excitement has been caused among officials and employees of the department of justice by the unofficial report that W. H. Lewis, a negro, now assistant United States attorney at Boston, has been slated for the position of assistant attorney general. It is said he is to be appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alfred W. Conley, who was a member of President Roosevelt's tenets cabinet. No verification of the report can be obtained, although such officials as are in town declare it is seemingly authenticated. Acting Attorney General self refused to discuss the matter. The appointment to fill this vacancy will be up to President Roosevelt and should he appoint Mr. Lewis as assistant attorney general, it will be the most important office ever given to the negro race. The position of assistant attorney general carries with it the entire duties of attorney general during the summer months, when he would be called upon to act as attorney general. Lewis is a graduate of Harvard and about 35 years of age. He played on the football team in his college days and is said to have made an exceptional record in his profession.

HORSE BREEDERS TO HAVE SPECIAL DAY

Local Horsemen Interested in Special Feature at the State Fair This Year.

Janesville horse owners and the breeders who reside in Rock county, are much interested in the program arranged for Thursday, September 10, at the State Fair. On that date it is planned that the special premiums provided jointly by the State Horse Breeders' Association and the State Fair management will be awarded to horses owned by farmers and breeders as expected to see the turnout on this annual. As there are also many subjects in connection with horse breeding which may well be discussed on such an occasion, a special conference of horse breeders has been called to convene upon the Fair grounds at 7 p. m., Thursday, Sept. 10, 1908. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the State Horse Breeders' Association and the Department of Agriculture at Madison, and among other topics to be considered are the following: The present stallion law and needed improvements in such legislation; the grade stallion situation and the policy of licensing grade stallions; methods for the encouragement of organization of horse breeders, and the patronage of pure-bred stallions and ownership of pure-bred mares. All interested in such matters are cordially invited to attend the meeting and take part in its deliberations.

BELOIT RANKS FIRST IN THE STATE GUARD

Co. L of the Line City is Ahead of the Rest of the State Militia.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Aug. 29.—(Rock county) Any hint of having the crack military company of the state of Wisconsin. Company L of Beloit, first regiment, stands at the head of the Wisconsin National guard in the rankings announced by Adjutant General C. R. Boardman yesterday. The rankings are based on the annual inspection made by General Charles King of the regular army, who has for the past few years been detailed to inspect the Wisconsin guard. The average of the Beloit company is 195.1 and the average per company in the state is 175.1. Janesville is in the national guard, but this was discontinued when practically the entire company enlisted in the Spanish-American war in the spring of 1898. After the war the state military organization was reorganized and although the Janesville company continued for some time it finally disbanded. The old Janesville company was called Company A, first regiment, and the short-lived company was known as Company L.

Snakes' Ears. Snakes have no external ears, but inside the head the ear bones are very crude, says St. Nicholas. Snakes "hear," however, by feeling vibration of sound on their delicate scaly covering, and searching for sound vibrations by protruding the wonderfully sensitive tongue which is filled with thousands of microscopic nerves. Their sight is very keen in distinguishing moving objects.

Bulwark of Civilization. Some one calls the mirror "the bulwark of civilization," and declares that it has done more for the world than the steam engine or the sewing machine. It makes women happy, because they can see themselves as others think they are, and it is a warning to the man who has been indulging in too much dissipation.

BROKE RECORDS FOR LARGE ATTENDANCE

Manitowoc Fair was Pronounced a Huge Success by Those Present.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Manitowoc, Aug. 29.—With all records of attendance and revenue in its 25 years history broken, the 1908 county fair closed this afternoon, one day later than planned. Rain, late yesterday afternoon, the last day, forced the postponement of the racing program until today and the three weeks of the days were held to day. Attendance records for one day were established Thursday when over 10,000 were on the grounds and the receipts of the year, except by several thousand those of the largest previous year, now show a record for a half mile track was established yesterday in the only heat of the free for all run, Red Hawk, a Chicago horse finishing first in 2:08.45 nearly a full second faster than the old record.

Sneak Thieves. Sneak thieves operated downtown during the fair, the Giffey restaurant being robbed of $10 cash. The police suspect a stranger, believed to be at Shelbygan and the police there have been asked to make an arrest. On the fair grounds yesterday thirteen men under surveillance of the police, were ordered to leave and quit the town under penalty of arrest. An unknown man is said to have made an attempt to assault a woman last night but escaped after the police had fired three shots at him. Not a single arrest has been made during fair week though hundreds of strangers are here.

Find no Trace. Searchers who have been on the lake two days have found no trace of Jacob Willgen, the local man who was lost with the barge Baldwin, which sunk off Two Rivers Point Thursday morning and the belief is being forced that he is dead. After Capt. Helms, the second man reported missing, was picked up by the steamer Carroll, the search for Willgen was renewed and Adolph Green, of Green Bay, owner of the Baldwin came here to make a personal trip in search for the man. Green is investigating the chances of raising the barge.

Withdraws Invitation. After inviting Jacob Alward, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor to speak here Labor day, the Central Labor council had withdrawn the invitation and the speaker will be Wesley Tibbs, secretary of the American Equity exchange at Chicago. The council's committee invited Alward but sooths in the body made a fight on the matter and won out. The celebration will be held jointly with the base ball team.

To Meet Debs. Socialists of the county plan a rally to greet Eugene Debs, when he comes here in his Red Special Sept. 21 and committees have been named to arrange for the meeting.

LA FOLLETTE MAKES HIS POSITION CLEAR

Senior Senator Sends Letters to His Followers Throughout the State.

As has been predicted John Strange of Menasha is the personal candidate of Senator La Follette on the republican primary ticket this year. The following letter and copy of a telegram received by Victor P. Richardson this morning confirm the report:

Madison, Aug. 28, 1908.
Mr. Victor Richardson,
Janesville, Wisconsin.

My dear friend: An urgent attack upon John Strange has been sent out from Milwaukee stating that he opposed the rate bill.

I sent him enclosed telegram today. With you would give it widest publication possible. John has been one of our strongest supporters for every thing right from the very beginning.

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE.

Madison, Aug. 28, 1908.
Hon. John Strange,
Menasha, Wisconsin.

Replying to your telegram calling attention to charges made that you opposed railroad rate legislation, will say that you came to Madison repeatedly while I was governor to assist in securing passage of rate law. Few men in state rendered such valuable aid as you did in support of that and other important legislation in the public interest.

ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE.

REASONS WHY HEMINGWAY SHOULD BE NOMINATED.

In last night's Gazette Mr. Fisher asks why Mr. Hemingway should be nominated. Mr. Hemingway's friends present the following reasons:

- 1—He is honest.
- 2—He is a man of ability as proved by his record as a county official.
- 3—He is not "afraid of the city."
- 4—He would give every man a square deal—not a "double deal."
- 5—He would be fearless in the performance of his duty. His cases would not be postponed until after the primaries.
- 6—He would not use the office to further his private business.
- 7—He would not charge grave offenses with the evidence at hand to convict and then substitute minor charges in exchange for a plea of guilty.
- 8—He would try his cases in the courts—not in the newspapers.
- 9—His record as a law student will stand comparison with Mr. Fisher's.
- 10—He would improve with professional age and experience.

Can Mr. Fisher's friends advance the same reasons for his renomination? As to the County Board endorsement—if nothing was meant by it, the voters are still privileged to do their own thinking; if the Board meant to dictate the republican nomination for District Attorney, the voters WILL do their own thinking.

Mr. Fisher claims that he has practically the unanimous support and endorsement of all the practicing attorneys in the county. Twenty-one of the fifty-four practicing attorneys signed his nomination papers. Almost without exception these signed before Mr. Hemingway announced his candidacy and many of these signers are not supporting Mr. Fisher today.

"The District Attorney should be both an able and an experienced lawyer."

"None of Mr. Fisher's endorsements claim that he is a lawyer of ability or that he shows any promise of ever becoming one. The court records prove that he has never dared attempt the prosecution of a case of any importance without the aid of special counsel. Is this the record of a SUCCESSFUL AND ECONOMICAL District Attorney?"

VOTE FOR

FOR RENOMINATION FOR

DISTRICT ATTORNEY

36 of the 39 members of the Rock County Board of Supervisors have endorsed John L. Fisher's administration as "ECONOMICAL and SUCCESSFUL."

The Supervisors audit and direct the payment of all County bills. They know whether a County officer is economical or extravagant.

John L. Fisher was admitted to practice law in 1899. He was appointed District Attorney by Governor James O. Davidson on February 1, 1900, and was elected District Attorney in 1900. His experience will save money for the tax-payers of Rock County.

If in doubt who to vote for, ask your Supervisor or any practicing attorney in Rock County.

Read Below What the Supervisors Say:

TO THE VOTERS OF ROCK COUNTY:

We, the undersigned qualified electors for Rock County hereby endorse the candidacy of John L. Fisher for renomination to the office of District Attorney for Rock County. We are familiar with Mr. Fisher's work and we believe that his record as District Attorney entitles him to renomination. He has the benefit of three years' experience in performing the duties of the office and his administration has been economical and successful.

We believe that it would be unwise for Rock County to elect a man to the important office of District Attorney who has had no experience as a practicing attorney in the trial of either civil or criminal cases. For this reason we endorse John L. Fisher.

GRANT U. FISHER

In announcing my candidacy for the nomination of Member of Assembly at the Republican Primaries, September 1, I desire to thank the voters who so readily signed my nomination papers.

If nominated and elected I shall work for the best interests of Rock County and my constituents.

Soliciting your vote on primary day, I am

Very truly,

GRANT U. FISHER.

VOTE FOR J. N. CHAMBERLIN FOR STATE SENATOR.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

I wish to present myself as a candidate for nomination for the office of County Treasurer on the republican ticket at the coming primary election. My experience on the County Board of Supervisors, upon which I am serving my fourth term and also many years of work as a bookkeeper have, I believe, qualified me to properly perform the duties of this office and I ask the consideration of the voters of the county.

Fresh Air.

I hold to the maxim "Die and let die." If any one chooses the fresh-air method of departing this life by all means let him take it, but let him respect the right of other people to choose their own method for themselves. Fresh air has its victims no less than foul. The tubercle bacillus does not enjoy fresh air, it is true, but there are plenty of other bacilli which rejoice in it. If consumptives thrive out of doors, the subjects of bronchitis are generally only safe when they stay in.—Dr. J. H. Clarke, in London Chronicle.

Cough Up.

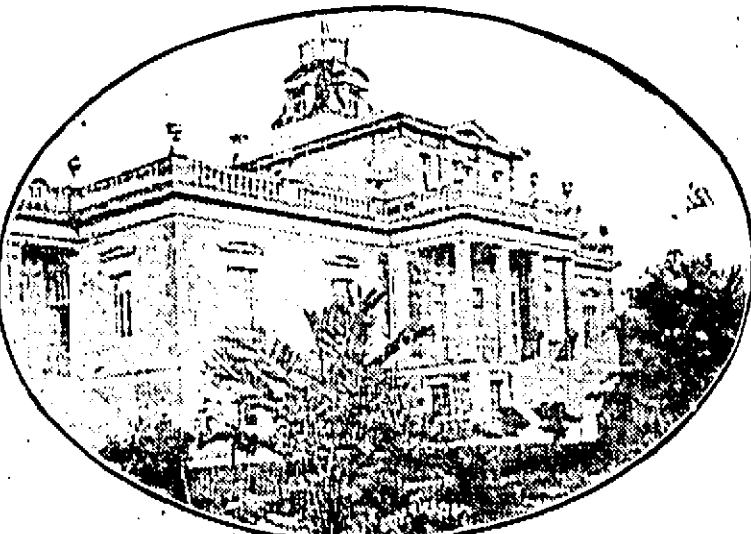

"The race for an office is like a street car."

"How so?"

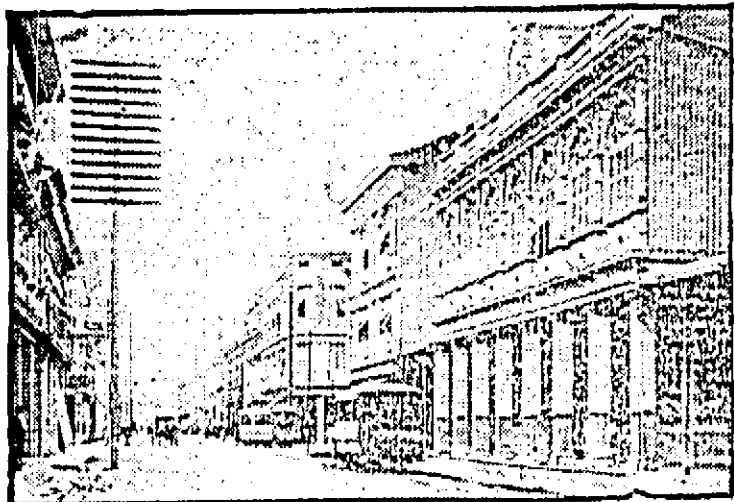

"Always room for one more."

"It also has the pay-as-you-enter feature."—Kansas City Journal.

A. C. POWERS

Republican Candidate for Election as

County Treasurer

For 60 Years a Resident of Rock County

Since 1879 I have held public offices continuously with a record as clean as the most exacting could desire. In the offices of town clerk of Rock, town clerk of DeLoit, and chairman of the town of DeLoit I have faithfully performed all duties, which experience fully qualifies me for the office I now seek. The files and records of the county stand as a testimony of my services. For twenty years I have been a director in the La Prairie Fire Ins. Co., which has broadened my acquaintance and made me many friends. I earnestly solicit your vote at the primaries.

MAJOR MALLOW.

Major Mallow with Mallow up has been traveling the circuit for three years now, and has proven a good money maker for his owner. Mr. Mallow picked up the horse on the streets. At the time no horseman outside of Mr. Mallow himself thought that there was anything remarkable about this money out of him than the owners of cart horse. Mr. Mallow with his remarkable eye for horse flesh bought him for a song and started in to make a trotter out of him. Today, while he is not the most wonderful horse on the grand circuit, he is a strong factor in every race in which he is entered. It is said Mr. Mallow has made more money out of him than the owners of cart horse. Mr. Mallow with his re-
